

This is another recipe from the old site. I decided to dig through it and most of it can stay where it is. This isn't a gem of recipe but I just thought it looked so nice with the purple and orange that I just had to resurrect it. The cabbage needs to be more finely shredded than it is the photos but this is quite nice - especially if you're looking for something simple for people who eat with their eyes more than their tongues. That's got to be painful.

The way I make Colourful Coleslaw is

Ingredients

- 1 red cabbage, outer thick leaves and heart discarded, shredded finely
- 5 large carrots, grated
- bunch of sweet seedless red grapes, halved
- 3 heaped tbsp mayonnaise
- freshly ground black pepper

Instructions

1. Mix all the above together. And you're done.
